

In This Issue

1. Easy clean coating products in inventory
2. New screen printing machine
3. Lantern Festival Evening Party
4. The Chinese Zodiac

Easy clean coating products in inventory

We have received and inventoried sufficient coating material to produce the orders.

New screen printing machine

A new screen printing machine was installed in the Xiamen factory at the end of February. Newly-hired workers have been training diligently the past few months to operate this new equipment. The maximum production capacity of the new printing machine is 6,300 square meters or approx. 68,000 square feet, translating to approx. 5 containers of 6mm glass each week. The new equipment brings our total printing capacity to 12,600 square meters, or approx. 136,000 square feet.

▲ New screen printing machine

Visit us at <http://www.intexglass.net>

Lantern Festival Evening Party

The Chinese New Year starts January 1st of the Chinese Lunar calendar (February 3rd, 2011 of the Gregorian calendar) and ends with the Lantern Festival January 15th of Chinese Lunar calendar (February 17th, 2011 of the Gregorian calendar).

Intex Glass organizes an Evening Party every year to celebrate this particular festival and to reward the employees who did a great job in the past year. The Export Department prepared two programs for the party. One was a dance performance called "Nobody", the other was a song "Make the world filled with love". Here are a few of the photos taken showing the people performing.

- ▲ The front row L to R: Sunny Huang, Chary Yang, Rainy Li, Emily Zeng, Jenny Zhang, Laura Luo
- ▲ The center row L to R: Angel Jiang, Wendy Zhong, Angela Zhang, Vivian Wu, Selina Lin
- ▲ The back row L to R: Jessica Chen, Joy He, Sophie Xu

Program 1 by the Export Department of Intex Glass: Make the world filled with love

▲ From L to R: Laura Luo, Wendy Zhang, Angela Zhang, Soso Wang, Chary Yang, Andy Yu, Jenny Zhang, Rainy Li (the cool boy hidden behind Chary is Brook Wu)

Program 2 by the Export Department of Intex Glass:
Nobody

The Chinese Zodiac

The history of the Chinese Zodiac is very interesting! It is said that Buddha invited all of the animals in the world to join him for the New Year celebrations, but only 12 animals bothered to turn up. As a reward, Buddha named a year after each one of them and they actually run in the order that the animals arrived to celebrate with Buddha, starting with the rat and ending with the last guest, the pig.

Visit us at <http://www.intexglass.net>

The Chinese believe that those born during a year of a particular animal would inherit some of the good and bad personality traits of that animal.

Also, each Chinese year is influenced by whatever animal applies to that year. The Year of The Rabbit began on February 3rd 2011. Most Rabbit years are quiet, positive, and inspiring, and 2011 looks to be heading in this direction – a refreshing change after the fast-moving and quite dramatic Year of the Tiger. Family, diplomacy and personal development will all be highlighted in 2011. Once again alternative sources of energy and green living will be under the spotlight. The arts and culture sector of society will very busy producing amazing works of art and staging important exhibitions throughout the year. Love, romance and family life are well-starred, with a renewed appreciation of loved ones and friends. Overall, it should be a fun and relatively peaceful year. Even though aggression, violence and war zones will still be in evidence, the Chinese Rabbit year favors peaceful solutions and diplomacy, so there will be a feeling that all is not lost and that hope is still very much alive.

Above article quoted from

<http://www.moonslipper.com/chinese.html>

where you will find more stories about the Chinese Zodiac.

Visit us at <http://www.intexglass.net>